FACTSHEET

se:café bar island

The se:café bar island modules are free-standing supply units that can be flexibly integrated into the room and thus form the centrepiece for informal meetings and spontaneous exchange. The understated design looks impressive, offering the option of an integrated sink, dishwasher or a cooling unit. With individually configurable dimensions and feature options, the island modules are ideal for open-plan offices where communication and hospitality take centre stage, creating a relaxed, inviting atmosphere.

Advantages

- The island stands freely in the room and is accessible from all sides. In combination with a wall module or room divider, this creates an inviting meeting point in the office, where the island modules also provide storage space and, if desired, further seating.
- Thanks to their timeless design and diverse positioning options, the modules blend harmoniously into all room layouts.
- Preconfigured modules are used for planning and are significantly less complex than kitchen planning, for example.
- The modules can be customised in terms of functions, equipment and materials.

Features

- The island modules can be expanded to include a bar table, which rests on one side of the island module and is supported on the other side by a 50 mm strong panel. It can be positioned at the side as an extension of the island or at the back at a 90° angle, creating a generous standing area (high desk height: 1050 mm) or seating for four to six people.
- With an island module with seating at the back, the side panels and cover tops are recessed (depth: 1100 mm), creating an area at the back with two to four seats in a raised seating position (table height: 925 mm).

Options/accessories

- The island modules are available in three widths: with two, three or four bottom cabinets. They can be planned with an attached table, with a seating area at the back or without a seating area.
- The extension table is available in two lengths (1525 and 2125 mm).
- A sink with tap can be integrated into the worktop.
- The area underneath the work surface can be fitted with a dishwasher or a cooling unit.
